BUSINESS ANALYST & DATA STRATEGIST

TURNING DATA INTO DECISIONS THAT MATTER

Cina Nazif is a Business Analyst at Oxford Strategic Legal Advisors with a strong foundation in data analytics, financial analysis, and strategic decision support. His work focuses on transforming complex data into clear, actionable insights that improve efficiency, inform strategy, and support sustainable growth. Cina combines analytical rigor with a practical understanding of how data must translate into real-world outcomes.

EXPERIENCE ACROSS FINANCIAL SERVICES & ANALYTICS

Cina has built his career at the intersection of data, operations, and business impact. As a Business Analyst at Photo Finishers Supply Inc. and previously as a Data Analyst at Citigroup, he developed a strong ability to structure, analyze, and apply data to solve meaningful business challenges. He thrives in collaborative environments, working closely with cross-functional teams to ensure insights are actionable, aligned, and effectively implemented.

EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION & COMMITMENT TO GROWTH

Cina earned his Bachelor of Science in Business Management with a specialization in Finance from Stony Brook University, complemented by a minor in Philosophy and international study at Yonsei University in Seoul. He remains committed to expanding his expertise in financial markets and analytics through continuous professional development. His technical toolkit includes SQL, advanced Excel modeling, and analytical platforms, alongside a growing depth in financial markets and portfolio fundamentals.
